HEAT KILLS BIG PROPORTION OF BLACK SCALE

Riverside Press: D. D. Sharp, county horticultural commissioner, declares that the recent hot spell was a real blessing to citrus fruit growers. "High temperature always kills off quantities of black scale," declared the commissioner, "particularly where the foliage of the trees is open and allows the sun's rays to hit the scale. The red scale is less susceptible to heat. If it were not for climatic conditions and predatory parasites, the black scale would put the orchardists out of business. As it is, not more

ENGINEER DEAD FOURTH VICTIM YORBA WRECK

Yesterday Joseph Benton, who was engineer of the Santa Fe passenger train that collided with an oil car at Yorba on August 4, died at the Fullerton Hospital.

Benton's death was the fourth that resulted from the collision. C. A. Phillips, express messenger, was burned to death in the wreck. J. B. Mesa of Riverside, a passenger, died the day after the wreck of burns received as he was escaping from the blazing day coach. Harry B. Smith, the fireman, who had an arm and leg broken and who was severely burned, lived for several days.

By many Benton is considered the hero of the wreck. Smith, the fireman, stated that the engineer threw the brakes on the tender, started the sand, and gave his engine the throttle in order to smash into the oil car and rendered the crash to the train less deadly.

Benton was thrown high above the wreck and fell thirty feet to the north side of the tracks. He was picked up unconscious. The first reports from the wreck stated that Benton was dead. That report was erroneous. He was taken to the Fullerton Hospital, where it was found that the man was suffering from concussion of the brain. Early last week it was believed that Benton would live. His condition, however, became less favorable, and a plan to move him to the Santa Fe Hospital in Los Angeles was given up. Friday and Saturday last he sank rapidly, and death came yesterday.

All three of the trainmen, Phillips, Smith and Benton, who died as a result of the collision, lived at San Bernardino. None of the others who were in the wreck were seriously injured. Benton had been practically unconscious all the time but it is believed he recognized his wife a few days after the accident. All members of his family were present when the end came.

Mrs. Benton left her home in San Bernardino late last night and the body will be taken to that city some time today.

OBJECTIONABLE NOTE SENT BY MAIL CAUSES W. R. LEE'S ARREST

Had Mania to Write to Young Women Whose Names He Saw In Papers

Declaring that he has been controlled by a strange, powerful impulse, William R. Lee, said to be the son of a well known rancher of Orange county, was arrested at Bear Valley and Saturday was placed in the Los Angeles county jail by Postoffice Inspector C. D. Lowe and United States Deputy Marshal Smith on a charge of having written objectionable letters to scores of women whom he never saw and whose names and addresses he took from the society columns of Los Angeles newspapers.

Lee was arrested in an isolated spot in the San Bernardino mountains last Friday by Inspector Lowe, who has been on his trail for months. To Lowe he made a full confession, expressing the greatest of contrition and offering with apparent frankness and sincerity an explanation of his misdeeds which the federal officials say makes him one of the most novel and amazing problems in their experience.

Lee admitted having written thirty-five improper letters to prominent women, while the postal authorities say that he has written and mailed more than fifty, perhaps closer to a hundred.

In Custody Lee realizes he has committed a grievous moral and legal offense, yet he clings to the explanation that when he wrote the letters he was confident he was committing no wrong, but was prompted by irresistible impulses from which he sought to escape, but which held him enslaved like a drug habit.

Lee began writing the letters last March and kept it up at intervals until a few days before he was arrested. Meantime, the postal authorities had been using every means to apprehend him and have arrested at least one person for the offense to which Lee confessed. He was followed from Los Angeles to Victorville, thence to the Big Bear country, where he was finally trapped.

Lee had taken up a homestead in the vicinity of Big Bear Lake. He had sought and found work on a neighboring farm and had intended to take up the development of his own claim when he had accumulated sufficient funds to do so. Ranchers in the vicinity of Big Bear Lake who knew the young man recommended him highly to Lowe as an industrious and trustworthy fellow.

SAN DIEGO WILL CONSIDER WAYS TO CUT COST ROAD UPKEEP

Orange County's Board of Supervisors has been invited to attend a convention of San Diego citizens to be held in San Diego tomorrow to consider ways and means of reducing the cost of the maintenance of its dirt roads.

Since the Orange County supervisors have a regular meeting here up on that day it is not expected that any of the board can attend the meeting. Concerning the meeting and the problem in San Diego County, the San Diego Union says:

"Whether to go on spending $200,000 a year to keep the highways of San Diego County in passable condition, or to ask the people of the county to vote a bond issue to pave the graded roads and to cut this cost in half and thus have a lot of tax money is a question to be discussed at a meeting to be held in the court house next Tuesday.

"The good roads of this county, built under the bond issue of five years ago, have been completed three years and have been in use since. During the year 1913, it cost the county $194,131.57 to maintain these roads and to build the short sections required to connect them. The new construction amounted to $24,064.57, the maintenance cost $139,067. At the same time the State Highway Commission work cost the county $194,024.25, making a total for that year on old and new roads of $333,091.35.

"$182,716.27 Cost in 1914
"During 1914, the expense of maintenance was $182,716.27, of which amount only $33,395.20 was for new construction, making the expense for maintenance and repairs $149,321.07. The State Highway Commission work cost $357.98.

"At the end of the fiscal year, 1915, the county had expended the sum of $232,795.78 on road work, of which $41,673.45 was for construction, making a total expense for maintenance $191,122.33.

"The increase in expense for maintaining the dirt roads of the county every year during the last three years follows:

|------|--------------|-------------|
| 1913 | $139,067.00 |             |
| 1914 | 149,321.07   | $10,254.07 |
| 1915 | 191,122.33   | 41,801.26   |

Total exp. $479,510.40

Repair Expense Grows

"More than half a million has been spent in keeping the roads of the county in a moderate state of repair and this sum is increasing at the rate of practically 10 per cent annually. Taking the three-year period as a basis, it is readily seen that in ten years, or three times as long, the county will have spent more than a million and a half at a conservative estimate in an effort to keep the dirt roads in some kind of shape, and to make the new roads necessary to the growth of the farming communities of the county.

"How to save this enormous drain, or to minimize it, is the question before the convention called for Tuesday next. It is contended that a bond issue with which to pave the most of the county is the solution and that when costs for maintenance for paved roads and for dirt roads are compared the paved road has all the best of it by a big per cent.

$1089 Outlay Per Mile

"Taking 440 miles of highway as the basis for calculation, it will be seen that the cost of maintenance for the last three years has come close to $1089 a mile, and annual average of $963 a mile yearly. Paved roads are new in this county, but the most extravagant maintenance costs on which there are any reports show less than $250 a mile. From that figure the costs run down to $100 a mile and even less.

"Any plan by which the supervisors can save the taxpayers of this county $100,000 a year in expenses is apt to evoke a lot of enthusiastic support. The supervisors have called the meeting Tuesday, inviting representatives from every voting precinct in the county to attend and take part in the discussion of the problem they find themselves compelled to solve.

"They have invited the supervisors of Orange, Imperial, Riverside and Los Angeles counties to be present and upon the result of this meeting largely will depend the action the board will take in its efforts to save the big end of the expense of maintaining the present road system of the county, a system that has had such an added load, due to the tremendous increase of traffic in the county."

FISHERMEN BACK FROM BIG TRIP

Sunburned, "feelin' fine" as a result of their outing and vowing that there is nothing to equal a week of deep-sea fishing, a party composed of Victor Walker, Percy Thelan, Carl Mansur, Jeff Lewis and Captain Whitman returned Saturday from a fishing trip to San Clemente.

The men are all greatly delighted with their trip despite the fact that they had no luck with fishing for tuna and swordfish. However, as they succeeded in pulling aboard a vast quantity of yellowtail, bass and barracuda, they are more than satisfied even though they did not get what they originally intended to get.

One of the most unusual exploits on the trip fell to Walker, who, using light tackle and a jig, caught a forty-pound yellowtail. Regulation light tackle was used by all the anglers.

The return trip from Mosquito Harbor, San Clemente, to Laguna Beach was made by the launch Ray in eight hours and forty minutes.

SALVATION FOR ENGLAND HELD TO LIE WITH AEROPLANES

LONDON, July 26.—(By Mail).—England's salvation is in the air.

Batter down the Rhine bridges with daily air raids and trench warfare in France is ended.

Send a thousand aeroplanes with five bombs each over the huge Krupp munitions factory at Essen and Germany is seriously crippled.

Destroy the nine bridges over the Meuse that daily make possible the transportation of arms and ammunition to the German armies in the West and the German armies will be on their knees.

Build or buy a thousand aeroplanes immediately, or two thousand or ten thousand and England will win.

This parcel of advice is the talk of England today. It is being printed in the newspapers, talked on the streets and handed to the government in parliament, through the War Office and the Admiralty.

It comes from England civilian strategists. They are agreed that England's future battles must be won in the upper stratum.

It was L. Blin Desbieds, lecturer in aeronautics at the Royal Military Academy, Woolich, and one of the best known aeronautical experts in England who first told the government that it should create and support a Ministry of Aviation. Today the government is said to be considering such a ministry.

Today Desbieds is asking the government to add to its air fleet a thousand aeroplanes at once.

Collaborating with other experts Desbieds has gathered the following information in support of his aerial offensive and handed it to the government: That an average of one military train every ten minutes crosses each of the fifteen bridges spanning the Rhine. They carry food, ammunition and reinforcements to the German armies in the West. This means that during every twenty-four hours 144 military trains pass into France and Belgium over each of these Rhine bridges, or 2160 over all of them. The German armies are wholly dependent on this constant supply and are provisioned in reserves for four days only.

That every ounce of supplies carried by this great steel caravan must cross nine bridges spanning the Meuse to reach the bulk of the German forces holding back the British and French on the great line across the continent. Desbieds has further suggested to the government that daily air raids over both the Rhine and Meuse must seriously hamper the enemy's supply. One thousand aeroplanes on this duty within a week, Desbieds suggested, could possibly not only cut off the vast supplies of the enemy, but render the German campaign in the West practically impossible.

What Desbieds has told the government about bridges he has also applied to Krupp at Essen.

One of the most vigorous supporters of Desbieds and his theory is H. G. Wells, noted English author. But Wells goes further than Desbieds. He is urging through a series of newspaper articles the building or buying of 10,000 aeroplanes and says "about the ultimate result of the war there can be no doubt."

"If we can smash Essen, we can hamstring Germany," says Wells. "We want aeroplanes going to and coming from Germany like ants about an anthill, like bees between a hive and clover, but going each with its load or tow of three hundred pounds of high explosives, and coming back empty, from now until the war ends."

Wells tells the War Office it is fighting in the fashion of 1899. He advises the War Office that thousands of young men from among both civil and military sources could be turned into air-men in a month and every one would be willing to risk his life in aerial attacks on German communications, ammunition factories and bridges.

"It is cheaper," he adds, "to launch 2000 aeroplanes at Essen than to risk one battleship. Aeroplanes will shorten the war. The government is spending $15,000,000 a day. To spend $250,000,000 on aeroplanes will be cheap in the long run."

C. G. Grey, well known London aeronautical editor, goes one better than either Desbieds or Wells. He asks the government to build or procure 400 aeroplanes a week until 20,000 have been added to the nation's aerial fleet.

James Douglas, in the London Opinion, suggests that every possible aeroplane factory in America and Canada as well as England be put to the task of making aircraft for England. He adds:

"The aeroplane is the only weapon that can turn the German lines. The main thing is to get plenty of this weapon and quickly. The aeroplane can fly over heavy guns, over the machine guns, over the steel and concrete redoubts, over the trenches. It can hit the Germans behind their lines. The flight sub-lieutenant who downed a Zeppelin single handed has shown what the aeroplane can do. We want ten or twenty thousand Warnemunde, who will deliver German railways, stations, depots, airships, bridges and munition factories with explosives. The aerial defensive has not yet been organized."

Like Desbieds, Wells and Douglas, scores of civilian air strategists are urging and advising the government along the same lines.

Dozens of private citizens have written the War Office and Admiralty declaring they will finance the construction of one aeroplane if authorized by the government. The government is facing a veritable deluge of advice, each parcel of it telling that the time to strike Germany by air has come.

MORMON CHURCH HEAD KIDNAPING PLOT

Because of the report of a plot to kidnap Joseph F. Smith, the venerable head of their church, Salt Lake City Mormon leaders arranged to guard him.

"This news is the most startling and unexpected thing I have heard in many years," said Bishop Smith, a son of the president of the church. "I had no previous information that such a plot existed. I am not prepared to say that there is no basis of truth to the plot, but I am positive that it was unknown to me until this moment."

BY ARREST MADE HERE OFFICER POND GETS REWARD OF $25

Officer Vestal Interrupts Boys Robbing Peanut Stand on Bush Street

Yesterday Officer C. I. Pond arrested Lee Mitchell, accused of stealing a motorcycle at San Diego, and thereby won a reward of $25.

That the motorcycle had been stolen and was being ridden toward Santa Ana was word that came over the long distance telephone from San Diego. A few minutes afterward another message from the bay city asked the local officers to search a northbound train for Nathan Warren Gaillard, whom Wells Fargo Company was trying to locate.

Pond started for the depot when he recognized a motorcyclist as the man wanted. When stopped the man thought Pond had him for riding with an open muffler. Explanations concerning the muffler were being given when Pond told the man he was wanted by the San Diego police for larceny.

The search of the train failed to locate Gaillard.

Boys in Trouble

Saturday night Officer W. W. Vestal broke up a raid on a peanut stand on Bush street, south of Fourth. Vestal walked out of the alley, and ran upon the "lookout" of a trio of boys engaged in the raid. The officer smelled a mouse. He went to the peanut stand, which has been closed while the owner, J. Pratt, is in the hospital, and found two boys in it. They were filling their pockets with candy when the cop arrived. The boys broke a lock off the door to get inside the stand. The youngsters, aged 13, 12 and 10, were taken to the Detention Home.

Noise vs. Sleep

Sunday morning at 1 o'clock Officers Ryan and Vestal were called to Fifth and Main streets by a telephone message from the Mission Apartments. It was stated from the apartments that the jitney drivers were doing a lot of loud talking on the street, and that sleep in the vicinity was a rarity as a result of the disturbance. The officers found a dozen jitneys standing there, the drivers making it a practice to stay up all night Saturday nights to get early Sunday morning trade. The jit drivers were instructed to keep quiet.

Carried a Knife

A man who gives his name as Frank Moore was arrested by City Marshal Jernigan and Officer Pond yesterday. Moore was seen walking along the street with an open pocket knife in his hand. He was muttering: "If I find him I will kill him." The officers say the man was not intoxicated. They think that his mind is unbalanced.

Bicycle Stolen

Hardly a day passes that reports are not received telling officers of missing bicycles. Recent reports of losses of bikes have been made to the city marshal's office by the following: W. T. Mitchell, 324 Halesworth; E. J. Franzen, R. D. 1; John Freeman, McFadden street; P. T. Patton, 1027 Highland; Eva Harshburger, 309 West Second; J. D. ## TWO CLAIM THEY WERE ATTACKED ROBBED OF $8

One Assault Happens at Yorba, Other at Westminster Late Saturday Night

Two men were assaulted Saturday night, one at Westminster and one at Yorba. By a peculiar coincidence both were robbed of $8 in cash.

With a fractured rib, three teeth knocked loose, a scalp wound and a black eye, Leon Acosta, who lives at Westminster, was brought to the Orange County Hospital yesterday afternoon. Acosta claims he was set upon by three men on the highway between Westminster and Bolsa at about 10 o'clock Saturday night, beaten and robbed of $8.

With a 3-inch cut along the left eye and a four-inch gash on his left wrist, Henry Magee, who lives at Yorba, was brought to the County Hospital yesterday evening at 5 o'clock. Magee claims he was set upon by men at Yorba, stabbed and robbed at 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Beaten With Clubs

Acosta, according to his own story, must have been assaulted with almost unparalleled ferocity. Judging from the number and severity of his wounds, he claims he was walking along the highway and when he arrived in front of the Sterling Price place, between Bolsa and Westminster, three men suddenly sprang upon him and began beating him with clubs.

Acosta states he does not know whether his assailants were white men or Mexicans. Besides his money, Acosta was relieved of his watch. Constable Heard went to Westminster and investigated the matter. Though Acosta is suffering considerable pain, he is resting quite easily.

Dr. Harry Zaiser at the County Hospital, states that he does not believe Acosta had been drinking at the time of the assault. There was no trace of liquor about Acosta when he was brought to the hospital.

Covered With Blood

Magee was covered with dried blood when he was brought to the hospital. Magee admits that he had been drinking when he was assaulted at Yorba at about 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Magee Is Attacked

Henry Magee, aged 70, and Tom Moreno, aged 75, have been living together in a small house near the Yorba bridge. According to information secured by Deputy Sheriff Fowler and Constable Coleman, Magee returned home yesterday and found that Louis Gonzales, Luis Padilla and Santiago Padilla, who live at Yorba, had broken into the house and were having a hilarious time there. When Magee protested he was given a beating. Moreno says that he returned home just as Gonzales and the Padilla brothers were leaving the place. He found Magee on the floor covered with blood. The interior of the house had been "rough-housed." There was blood on the floor and walls. Romero took the officers to where the men alleged to have attacked Magee lived, and the trio were brought to jail. Moreno says a shotgun and a gallon of port wine were stolen. Yesterday the officers were unable to find the shotgun. Search today, however, resulted in finding it at the home of one of the three men under arrest. The stock has bloody marks upon it.

THE cardinal virtue in banking and in business is PUBLIC CONFIDENCE. It is the essential asset without which success is impossible. It must be inspired by the personnel of the directors and the management and must be held by conservatism in the policy of conducting the bank's affairs. This is the attitude taken by the Farmers & Merchants National Bank of Santa Ana since its organization in dealing with the public—and that the public has responded in the generous measure that it has, in entrusting its money to our care, is sufficient evidence that the public views the matter as we do.

INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT

The protest uttered by Senator Root in the New York constitutional convention against the so-called "invisible government" of cliques and bosses will find a hearty echo among men of all parties. But it is one thing to denounce machines, and another thing to wipe them out without creating new bosses equally pernicious.

The battle between the bosses and the average voter is always a case of the professional against the amateur. The boss is represented as a czar, a tyrant who compels the people to bow to his will. Nothing could be further from the truth. The boss gains his power and reaps his advantage from his skill in forecasting popular desires and adapting himself to popular will.

The slightest shift in popular feeling is known to the bosses before the voters are conscious of it themselves. The network of listening ears hears the rustle of wind in the remotest tree-tops. If the people want a certain reform and are determined to have it, they can always get it.

The public is easily diverted by side issues. Opinions are taken ready-made from skillful cultivators of sentiment who have private interests to serve. Many are swayed by racial and social ties. If their particular element in the community has not secured its share of the offices the rascals must be turned out. The moment a man thinks his own pocket is touched he goes up in the air.

The boss plays on these currents of human feeling as the musician plays on his organ. He uses threats rarely, but appeals to prejudice and personal interest.

Good political methods, like safeguards about electing, nominating and legislative machinery, can help these conditions. But the only permanent remedy is intelligent study of political history, local, state and national, from day to day. The man who takes one or more unprejudiced and reliable newspapers, and reads the political news carefully, is rarely subject to boss manipulation.

WE GET A SQUARE DEAL

Orange County is rapidly gaining an enviable reputation as a place where the consumer of food products can feel assured of a square deal. Not only is the consumer afforded a high degree of protection against short weights—not whether the fraud is sought to be perpetrated by producer, wholesaler or retailer—but the retailer is protected against the wholesaler and the producer, and the wholesaler is protected against the producer—there is vigilant and efficient protection all along the line.

To the credit of the retail dealer be it said, that in every case of short weight the fault has been traced back to the jobber, the manufacturer or the producer. And to the credit of George McPhee, Inspector of Weights and Measures for Orange County, be it said, that while he does his duty impartially and efficiently, he also does it with due discretion—with common-sense fairness.

In many—indeed in most places the duties of the office of Inspector of Weights and Measures are performed perfunctorily, or at best with a degree of laxness or hither-missness that renders the administration of the office innocuous if not obnoxious. Not so in Orange County. It is probable that the vigilance and efficiency of Inspector McPhee saves the food consumers of this county ten times the amount of his salary every year, not to mention the value of the moral effect of enforcing the square deal in trade.

THE WORST IS BEHIND

Conservative and radical are beginning to agree that the nation has emerged from the darkest of the depression nightmare. In every line of industry an improvement is seen and hundreds of thousands of workers in the last few weeks have returned to their places. Foreign buying orders started the movement that has resulted in hundreds of dark factories being agleam, and in the greatest agricultural activity in the nation's history.

With industrial affairs and public work striking their stride, and the greatest harvest coming in our generation the future looks good; if we have learned the lessons of frugality, household economics and living within our means, when we have any, we will have profited much more than we have lost by the two lean years.

And if we have learned to live happily and in content without regarding so much the accidental chances of material fortune we have conquered the real problem, for life is more than raiment, and to live is beyond meat and the swift rushing of gasoline tainted air.

RIDING ON SPRINGS

"The world rides on springs," somebody unthinkingly said. And then he went on and pointed to the luxuries the world has today—luxuries the world did not dream of years ago.

After having pictured all these luxuries of travel, of dining, of entertainment, of living, he concluded that the world rides on springs—that is, the world has a mighty easy and pleasant time of it now compared to what it used to have.

But he is wrong. The world does not ride on springs. Probably a few more ride on springs now than rode on them a century ago, but the great majority do not ride on springs. For their life is pretty dreary and weary and springless.

They work as hard as men and women worked a thousand years ago—and they get the same—a living, or less.

They have to sacrifice much so that a few may ride on springs!

BIG STRIKE IS ENDED
BY PRIEST'S EFFORTS

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—The strike of 1500 transfer company teamsters and chauffeurs, which began here last Friday, was settled last night. The men were granted a general wage increase of 50 cents a week, a reduction of about one hour in the working day and better working conditions. The settlement was brought about by Father Timothy Dempsey, a Catholic priest, who induced the leaders of both sides to agree to a joint meeting.

GIRLS ASSERT THAT MEN KIDNAPPED THEM

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—William Burch, a son of the sheriff of Ohio county, in West Virginia, and Charles Ryder, were today jailed on suspicion of bringing two girls automobiling across the continent. It is asserted by the girls that the men kidnapped them. The men said they started across the continent motoring and the girls climbed into their auto. They made violent love to the men and insisted upon accompanying them and the men were overpersuaded. The girls' names are Florence Rucher, eighteen, and Wavelet Tisdale, seventeen.

EFFECTUATE PROGRESSIVE PRINCIPLES

FROM THE NEW YORK TIMES

Hiram Johnson, Governor of California, and nominee of the Progressive party for vice president in 1912, when Colonel Theodore Roosevelt headed the ticket, will be used as the battering ram with which to break down the doors of conservatism, and force Progressive principles and a nominee who may be satisfactory to the majority of the members of the Progressive party at the Republican national convention in 1916. That, at least, is the present plan, and it will be carried out unless developments prior to the primary elections next spring make the adoption of an entirely new program necessary.

Colonel Roosevelt, who returned to his home at Oyster Bay yesterday after a visit to the Panama-Pacific exposition, talked over the political situation at length with the governor of California, while in San Francisco, and it can be stated authoritatively that Johnson is not only willing but anxious to make the fight.

According to the present tentative program, Governor Johnson will not only endeavor to capture the delegation to the Republican National convention from California, but he may go into other western states where the delegates are elected at the direct primary and endeavor to add to his strength as a factor in naming the man who will head the Republican ticket next year.

Colonel Roosevelt, with Mrs. Roosevelt, who is in the best of health, despite reports to the contrary, arrived at the Grand Central Station at 9:55 o'clock yesterday morning on the Twentieth Century Limited. The Colonel was as buoyant and aggressive as ever, and looked full of fight. He was met by half a dozen reporters, who asked him for an expression about the decision of Theodore Douglas Robinson, Jr., ex-estate chairman of the Progressive party, and Chauncey J. Hamlin, its leader in Erie county, to enroll as Republicans and quit the Progressive ranks. At first he refused to make any comment, but after his arrival at Oyster Bay he issued this statement, which was taken by many as an indication that the Colonel was only too anxious to have the Republicans and Progressives join in the next big fight for political honors:

"As regards the Progressives who have announced their intention of enrolling as Republicans in this state, I have nothing to say except that I think it has been fine of them to have made the great fight they have made during the past three years for Progressive principles, and I am sure they are now acting conscientiously in the step they now take and with the purpose of doing what they regard as most useful to the community."

"Holding the convictions I do it would be an impossibility for me myself to take that step. I shall enroll as a Progressive, and if any man in this state asks my advice, I shall advise him also to enroll as a Progressive."

This trip made by the Colonel to the coast, to which, in his words, no political significance was to be attached, was a purely personal one.

care—sheep, calves, pigs or little fishes—I've an appetite that's rare. Now hand me some from that blue platter; fussy gents, they make me sore; what I eat does not matter—thanks, I'll have a little more."

He was a happy, genial man, who did his best and never worried. His memory is to those who knew him an inspiration and a benediction. He was domestic in his tastes and loved his home. He wisely selected to be one of the happy people who "Far from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife, Their sober wishes never learned to stray; Along the cool sequestered vale of life, They kept the noiseless tenor of their way."

tached, has given him an excellent opportunity to study the situation and has left him none the less determined to bring about, if possible, a coalition of the Republican and Progressive parties if it is possible to nominate the right kind of a candidate on the right kind of a platform at the Republican convention.

The decision to have Governor Johnson run in the Republican primaries, and, by becoming the disturbing factor in 1916, disappoint those Republicans who believed they were to be allowed to hold their convention in peace after the disturbance of 1912, does not mean, it was said, that Roosevelt and his followers in the progressive party would demand the nomination by the Republicans of Johnson.

In fact, it can be said that very little hope, if any, is held by them that Johnson could carry the convention. But they realize to the full the importance of Johnson as a club over the head of the Republican party. And they hope that by injecting Johnson into the fray it will be possible at least to defeat the nomination of a reactionary, and to place at the head of the Republican ticket a man whom the Progressives, who are not determined to make a lone fight at all costs, could support without all loss of self-respect. They hope to have a very strong voice in framing the platform and purging it of some of the doctrines which they believe are fatal to the cause of advance, and as the Colonel might express it, "righteousness."

Colonel Roosevelt returned from his tour of the west with one thing stamped indelibly in his mind, and that was that there would be a national convention of the Progressive party, at which a straight Progressive ticket would be nominated. He found everywhere enough of the radical branch of the party demanding such a step to make it more than a possibility—in fact, to make it inevitable. He found also that in most sections, when it was learned that he would not run under any circumstances—or at least unless the most remarkable situation arose—that the Progressives were looking to Governor Johnson of California as their next candidate.

In the Middle West and even in California, Colonel Roosevelt, it was said, found many Progressives who were considering the advisability of throwing their support to President Wilson should he be renominated by the Democrats, in the event a reactionary, so called, was nominated by the Republicans in 1916, and it was evident that the Progressive party nominee had no opportunity of victory.

A PESSIMISTIC VIEW

There Will Be No Peace in the World

To the Editor: A very remarkable idea obtains in the minds of many, and that is that the war in Europe will be the last great war, and that it is a war of peace.

"All that is now necessary is to break Prussian militarism, and then the millennium is assured, many say. So while the war is raging, men are proclaiming for the future, 'peace and safety.'"

How few know that the prophetic Word is being fulfilled in this awful conflict! Our great boasted civilization has broken down; for while man has undoubtedly been refined and educated and "cultured," it is scarcely more than veneer, for in battle he oftentimes seems as barbarous as in the days of Attila or Alaric.

In a cartoon that appeared in one of the late magazines, the savage's view of this war was well and truly presented. In his native wild sits the savage, reading a "war special," under a tree, against which leans his great spear. And as he reads the terrible records of destruction and barbarity, he exclaims in disgust: "Och! The heathen!"

It is undoubtedly true that this war between all these so-called "Christian nations" must strike the non-Christian onlooker very strangely. I am reminded of an experience which an American missionary in the Fiji Islands had shortly after the war broke out between Great Britain and the Boers. He was editing a little paper at the time, in the Fijian language and some articles concerning that war were presented to his Fijian readers.

One day a Fijian Christian sought and obtained an interview. He was exercised over the war. His statement of the case from a native standpoint was pointed and convincing. It was much as follows: "The English and the Boers are both Christian people. Tary both employ chaplains to accompany and encourage their soldiers. These chaplains on both sides pray to the same God for the success of their respective armies. How can God answer both? When the English missionaries taught the Fijians the message of peace we listened to it. Would it not be good for some Fijian missionaries to go to England and preach a similar message?"

What could be said in answer to such a searching argument? How could the missionary explain that there is a good reason for war? That a severe stricture on our advanced civilization and reputed Christian teaching.

The nations are not Christian. Many individuals in all of them are; but the narrow way to life is not, and can never be, broad. The Bible teaches us that in the last days men will prepare for war and not for peace. They are doing what God said we might expect. (See Joel 3:9-12.)

There may come a lull in the storm, but peace can not be assured. "There is no peace * * * to the wicked," God has said. The end is near. The nations are angry; and the coming of Christ, which ends the reign of sin, is the only hope for peace. His coming is the "blessed hope," and He is the "Prince of Peace."

Very truly yours,

Clarify and Beautify Your Complexion
THORO (Powdered Olive Oil) Will Make It Clear

Olive oil is soothing and healing to the skin—for centuries it has been used as a lotion and an ointment. This new powdered olive oil skin detergent is a scientific preparation of olive oil that adds wonderful cleansing powers to its soothing and healing qualities. THORO absolutely removes not only every particle of dust, grease, grime and dirt that collect on the skin, but also those impurities, oils and poisons that are constantly coming out through the pores and accumulate on the skin surface. At the same time the soothing pure olive oil softens the skin, gives it natural nourishment and heals any irritated tissues.

Once a day is as often as you really need to use THORO in order to have a healthy skin and a clear complexion. Try it as a substitute for soap—either at night or in the morning—and before using creams and cosmetics. The very first trial will prove to you its great superiority over soap, face cream, meal or any other skin cleanser. Blackheads, pimples and oily skin will quickly disappear. There will be free and normal elimination of the body impurities through the pores and your skin will always be in fine condition. It is especially beneficial for delicate and tender skin that is apt to be rough or irritated, and absolutely prevents chapping.

There has never been anything that even approached THORO for purifying the skin, making it healthy and keeping the complexion clear and beautiful. It's easy to use and the results are simply amazing. Now on sale at White Cross Drug Store, druggists, Santa Ana, and Orange Drug Store, druggists, Orange, in the beautiful refillable dispenser. Price 35 cents. Three for $1.00.

HAPPY REUNION

Relatives of Crissman Family Welcome Cousins From the East

A delightful reunion was held last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Crissman of 617 South Birch street, where relatives of the Crissmans gathered to welcome their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore, of Winchester, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Crissman of Kit Carson, Colo., who are touring California and attending its expositions.

At 1 o'clock Mrs. Mary Crissman and Mrs. Maggie Hill, who were hostesses at this pleasant affair, invited their guests to gather around the dining table, which was fairly groaning with choice viands and after full justice had been accorded the bountiful dinner, the company gathered in the cozy living room to hear of the early days when Grandfather Crissman, with his family, emigrated from Milroy, Penn., to Adams county, Ohio, making the long trip to his new home by wagon, in the year 1841.

Of the seven sons, respectively, James H., William, John R., Samuel M., George T., Marion F. and Franklin, but there are now living, Samuel M. and George T. chose the vocation of a minister, the latter having preached at the Presbyterian church here several times. Although the children of the seven brothers, are scattered over ten states, a notable feature of the reunion was the fact that each family was represented: William Crissman and Maggie Hill of Santa Ana; Lonnie Moore of Winchester, Ohio; Ruth Crissman and Carl Crissman of Los Angeles; Mary and Bessie Sperry of Long Beach, and George W. Crissman, of Kit Carson, Colo.

Snapshots of the merry company were taken, those present besides the guests of honor, including Mr. and Mrs. Marian F. Crissman, Augusta E. Crissman and daughter Mary, Mrs. Bessie Sperry and daughters Ruth and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crissman, Mr. and Mrs. William Crissman and sons, Robert and William, Mrs. Maggie Hill and sons, Roland, Frank and Theodore, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carey and baby Dorothy Gene, and Dr. E. Campbell, a close friend of the family.

Recent Visitors En Route

Mr. O. C. Van Meter of Iowa City, Iowa, who with his wife, two daughters, and chauffeur have been spending the past month in and around Santa Ana, having motored here in their Cadillac touring car, started on their return journey via the Santa Fe route.

Word has been received here that they have shipped their car from Kingman, Arizona, and the party will return home on the train. Owing to numerous washouts, and the flooded condition of the roads, the route through eastern Arizona and western Kansas is impassable.

Mr. Van Meter is a prominent hotel man of Iowa City and has large property interests there, but he is in love with California, and hopes to arrange his business affairs so that he can come here to make his home.

While in this vicinity the Van Meters were guests of their cousins, Mrs. Will Blee of El Modena, and the Billingsleys of Villa Park.

To Spend Summer Here

Miss Elizabeth Holden of Baltimore, Maryland, and Mrs. Virginia Albright of Basic City, Virginia, were guests at the home of Mrs. Willis Faust, yesterday.

Mrs. Albright will remain to spend the summer at the Faust home.

WHAT IS CULTURE?

In the September Woman's Home Companion Ida M. Tarbell writes an entertaining and sensible article entitled "The Pursuit of Culture" in which she takes up some of the substitutes for culture which women are willing to accept in place of the real thing. Following is Miss Tarbell's definition of real culture:

"Culture is a slow process. It comes from long and close contacts. It is the fruit of reflection, of travail of soul and of mind. Grappling with something until the very essence of it has been extracted is a first step. Thus the taste of essences is learned and once learned lesser distillations do not satisfy. Then follows a growing power to discriminate, to distinguish nice values, to judge of quality, to answer to beauty, to feel the need that what you have—though it may be little—may still be the real thing. This is culture. It is not baggage, like diplomas and degrees—it is not things seen and heard, miles traveled or books read. These are the materials for culture; they contribute to it only when they are absorbed by the mind and as really lost in it as water and lime, phosphates and ammonia must be lost in the soil if they are to enrich it and enable it to increase its yield."

The morning session of the all-day school of instruction of the Rebekahs of District No. 50, was most interesting and profitable, representatives gathering at the Odd Fellows' hall at Orange to enjoy the hospitality of the Orange Rebekahs.

Mrs. Lottie Gitchell of Orange, who is president of the school of instruction, called the meeting to order, the following officers from Santa Ana having honors in the assembly: Katherine Clark, vice president, and Amelia Prather, inside guardian of Sycamore lodge; Sarah Uttley, treasurer, and Mary Moore, Chaplain of Torosa lodge, and also Mrs. V. Price of Torosa.

District Deputy President Addie B. Lucy introduced the beloved past president of the Rebekah assembly, Mrs. Fannie Lacy, who acted as instructor, and graciously answered all questions of those in assembly.

Reports from the various officers were heard before the meeting adjourned at 12:15, for the bountiful luncheon in the spacious dining room.

Huntington Beach

HER RESIDENCE GIVEN TO THE M. E. CHURCH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 16.—Mrs. H. Laella Unlauf, for the past eighteen months a resident of Huntington Beach, and for sixteen years a volunteer missionary to India, receiving no pay for her work, has added to her list of donations by giving to the Methodist church of this city the fine twelve-room residence property where she is now living, to be used as a Deaconess' Home. The present Deaconess' Home will then become the parsonage of the church.

Mrs. Unlauf is now president of the local W. C. T. U. and is a worker in every good cause to the limit of her strength. She is now having built on lots adjoining the property which she has given to the church a fine Swiss chalet, into which she will move as soon as it is completed, which will probably be about October 1.

APPENDIX IS REMOVED; PATIENT DOING WELL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 16.—L. B. Stearns, who has been suffering from an attack of appendicitis, went to the Loma Linda Sanitarium at Redlands early last week and yesterday morning was operated upon. The reports from the sanitarium are very favorable and his friends hope for an early and complete recovery. Mr. Stearns is a son of L. W. Stearns and he and his family have lived in Huntington Beach the greater part of the time for a number of years.

Mrs. C. P. Pann, who has been the guest of her father, Dr. S. G. Huff, for several weeks, has returned to Chowchilla.

Edwin Pann, who graduated from the high school in the class of 1914, is making arrangements to enter Stanford University this fall.

Mrs. E. R. Bullock and family are planning to remove to Los Angeles in a few weeks.

Miss Ruby Mason of Los Angeles is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Livernash, over Sunday.

Miss Irma Davis, a freshman in the high school last year, has become the bride of Herman Robinson of Wintersburg. A kitchen shower was given her last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Walton.

The Misses Minnie and Vida Ross entertained a number of young ladies at a house party at their home on Main street at the week end.

SLAUGHTER PIGS GET COIN FOR 'BEAN DAY'

"Deestrick Skule" Proves to Be Jolly Entertainment For the Veterans

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 16.—That there will be beans for all on Tuesday, which is denominated "Bean Day" at the Grand Army Encampment, was made certain by the outcome of the pig slaughtering which occurred Saturday morning. It was China pigs that were slaughtered, pigs which for a whole year had held their peace and their pieces of silver, nickel and copper. The China pigs were distributed at the last encampment and each week and month has seen an increase in the hoard of money which they contained until on Saturday they gave forth that which they contained. The slaughtering was made a feature of the day's program and the result, while not announced in dollars and cents, was evidently satisfactory to those who knew.

In the afternoon a children's program was given, most of the numbers being given by local children. Mrs. M. M. Packard had charge of the program.

Whittier in Charge
Saturday evening, Whittier Post and Corps took charge of the program. The most amusing feature of the program which they gave was the "Deestrick Skule." Mrs. M. O. Graves, who had charge of the program, acted as teacher of the school. It was the day for entertaining visitors in the school and a number were present. Old gray-haired men, and gray-haired women with their hair braided down their backs were the scholars in the school. Their antics were very amusing and showed that they had not forgotten the tricks of their early days.

Some of the stunts in the "Deestrick Skule" were ringing of bell by teacher calling the children in, opening by singing the multiplication table of fives; recitation, Eldora Fisher; composition, Johnny McClure; dialogue, Della Evans, Tal Hawhead, Rosabelle Holland, Eldora Fisher, Andrew Sampson; recitation, "Mary Had a Little Lamb," Phylla Wheatland; parody, Mary Miller; parody, Sarah Sims; dialogue, "The Tramp," Tal Hawhead, Andrew Sampson; song, Adie Trickett; recitation, Rosabelle Holland; recitation, Jennie Babcock; recitation, Lily Mitchell; spelling match, Maggie Boyd and Adie Trickett; choose up; dialogue, eight little girls; song, Columbia Evans.

As school was dismissed the scholars passed the teacher's desk, each receiving a stick of candy, Johnny McClure taking occasion to pass by three times at least.

Another feature of the program given by the Post and Corps was a solo, "For Dear Old Yale," sung by Comrade Robert Clabaugh, who is past eighty-two years of age. The song brought down the house and he was compelled to respond to two or three encores. The high school orchestra of Whittier gave a number, Miss Hazel Lark gave a reading, Mrs. E. C. Butterfield sang a solo, Miss Beatrice Duffield gave a reading.

On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the Memorial Roll Call was held, with a sermon by the chaplain, C. R. Norton. The auditorium was well filled and an interesting and able sermon was given in which the chaplain upheld the righteousness of the cause for which the Grand Army had fought.

Dress parade was held in the afternoon and in the evening a special musical program was held.

to its readers, who will ever be grateful for the opportunity offered by this grand educational distribution.

In addition to the 600 beautiful text illustrations are full page plates of the famous Tissot pictures in handsome colors. As Edward K. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, says: "This Bible is not a meaningless picture book. The illustrations serve a distinct purpose. They enrich the text, but they do more—they intelligently EXPLAIN it, so that many a hitherto obscure passage assumes to thousands a new meaning through these eye-teaching pictures."

You will enjoy this Bible, whether you belong to the church or not, for its "eye-teaching" pictures make it of rare educational value to all.

TEN BIDS ARE OPENED FOR A NEW MANUAL ARTS BUILDING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 16.—On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock bids were opened for the construction of the new manual Arts building for the high school. There were ten bids opened, varying from $13,500 down to $9,400. Most of the contractors were present when bids were opened. Some objection to the opening of some of the bids was made on account of the delay in the arrival of a car which caused the bids to be filed after the hour set. After some discussion the objections were set aside and the bids opened.

The three lowest bids were from Grafford and Kutzner of this city, Harvey Garber of Orange and I. P. Davison of Los Angeles. The board took the bids under advisement and will award the contract at an early date.

It will be impossible to have the building ready for the opening of school. However, it will be rushed to completion with all possible speed.

HARBOR PETITION CIRCULATION IS MEETING WITH MUCH FAVOR

Extremely encouraging reports are being received from those who are circulating the harbor petitions. According to these reports the petitions asking the supervisors to make an investigation of the harbor possibilities of Newport Bay are being freely signed in every part of the county.

George Robinson reports that up to 6 o'clock Saturday evening he had secured 398 signatures for the one day. C. S. Shaw reports that between 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening he secured sixty-five signatures.

Interesting Reminiscences

A man prominently identified with the early days of the county when small vessels and schooners put into Newport Bay, is John Cubbon, president of the California National Bank.

Cubbon came to Santa Ana in 1870. In that year the first steamer came into the bay. It was the "Valkyrie" and was used to transfer lumber from San Diego here.

Cubbon built a dyke near where the club house of the Orange County Country Club now stands. This dyke was built to keep the waters of the bay from flooding the land where the lumber was unloaded.

The steamer "Valkyrie" burned wood. Cubbon secured a contract for supplying the steamer with wood. For a period of about six months Cubbon found this business very lucrative.

Builds First Road

In those days there was a great amount of willow timber toward the southwest of Santa Ana. The trees were of a good size. A fire had swept through the trees, leaving only their charred trunks. It was the trunks of these trees that Cubbon hauled to the landing on the bay.

When Cubbon first began hauling the fuel to the steamer he found the road in very bad condition. In short, there was no road to speak of, the "road" being a mere trail. So Cubbon improved the road.

As Cubbon was hauling lumber from the steamer at about the time when the old Santa Ana Hotel was built at the corner of Fourth and Main streets where the First National Bank building now stands, it is quite likely that at least part of the timber used in the hotel was hauled by him. This hotel was later moved to its present location on Fruit street.

Bishop Hauled Oranges

Another man who recalls the days when vessels made Newport Bay a port of call is Attorney Clyde Bishop.

"I'll venture to say I made the trip from Santa Ana to the landing and back as much as a hundred times," says Attorney Bishop, who is one of the most energetic harbor boosters. "I hauled oranges to the vessels and carried loads of rosin and caustic soda on the return trips. The rosin and soda were used in making a mixture with which to spray the orange trees."

AUTO SMASHED BY MOTORCYCLE AT HIGH SPEED

An accident which occurred on La Vita avenue yesterday, on the way to El Modena, resulted in the smashing of an auto belonging to Geo. E. Preble, and the destruction of a motorcycle ridden by Ware, a night sugar boiler, employed by the Co-Operative Sugar Company.

Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mr. Preble, accompanied by his family and an eastern guest, was going to El Modena to inspect a new building which he is erecting. He was traveling at a rate not to exceed ten miles an hour when he approached Prospect avenue, the road which runs from Hewes' Hill and intersects La Vita avenue. Coming through Prospect avenue was a motorcycle, ridden by Ware, and he had a young lady with him on the rear seat. The name of this lady is Mrs. Mary Steffanazzi.

The people in the auto noticed that the motorcycle was traveling very fast, and Mrs. Preble spoke the feelings of all when she said, "I do hope they will slow down." But the hope was in vain, for there was no diminution of speed as the motor hurtled along the street, and when the auto was half way across, the cycle struck it such an awful blow that the solid steel guards were cut like cheese, and the motorcycle put completely out of business.

Young Ware was out to the Preble residence today, but Mr. Preble would not say just what he had to offer. It was hinted, however, that he was there to effect some kind of compromise as far as damages are concerned.

Preble and his family are to be congratulated that the accident was no more serious. Mrs. Steffanazzi was badly shaken up and Ware did not remain unhurt.

CRASH OF GLASS ENDS ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY

Thieves Use Glass Cutters In Effort to Break Into W. J. Cozad's Store

That an attempt was made to burglarize W. J. Cozad's store at 911 West Fourth street yesterday morning about 2:30 o'clock, is the belief of the owner of the store and Sheriff Jackson.

The crashing of glass caused the men to flee. They jumped into an automobile and got away just before L. J. Dale of 810 West Fourth, armed with a revolver, reached the store.

The sheriff is satisfied that the men used glass cutters in their attempt to get into the store.

It was about 2:30 o'clock that a crash in front of the store awakened a number of people in the neighborhood, including Cozad, who lives the first house west of the store. L. J. Dale, who lives east of the store, jumped out of bed, and with a revolver started out. He saw the automobile leave from in front of the store and go west on Fourth. Cozad, who was awakened, also saw the machine leave.

A hole three feet square was found in the window. The glass fell inward upon some tinware, adding to the crash of breaking glass. As the hole was cut in the window in the glare of a street light, it was at first thought that the window was broken by some one who staggered against it upon being let out of an automobile.

Later investigation, however, showed that a glass cutter had been used upon the glass door in the shadow of the building. These were long cuts. Why the burglars gave up attempting to cut the glass of the door in a shadowed place and undertook entrance through the window in the light is hard to figure out.
